

Word	Meaning(s), Synonyms, Related Words, Analogy	Antonym(s)
rehabilitate	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>v. [to put back in a good condition] restore</li> <li>v. [to restore the rank, privilege, property or reputation which one has lost] reinstate</li> </ol> Analogy:  rehabilitation : convalesce :: recidivism : relapse  rehabilitate : person :: restoration : building	1. destroy
rejoinder	n. [a quick reply to a question or remark] retort ; riposte; response
relapse	n. [the act of slipping or falling back into a former worse state, esp. after improvement] reversion; recidivism; regression Analogy:  recidivism : relapse :: rehabilitation : convalesce  recidivist : relapse :: sycophant : flatter
relegate ®	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>v. [assign to a lower position] demote</li> <li>v. [expel] banish; bar; exile</li> <li>v. [refer to another person for decision or judgement] transfer; submit</li> </ol>
relevant	adj. [being important to the subject under consideration] pertinent; applicable; germane; apt; appropriate; apposite Analogy:  relevant : crucial :: perceptible : obvious  relevance : immaterial :: circuitous : directness	impertinent; immaterial
remission	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>n. [a temporary lessening or disappearance of the symptoms of a disease] relief; subsidence</li> <li>n. [the cancellation of or release from a debt, penalty, etc.]</li> <li>n. [the act of forgiving formally, as of sins or crimes] pardon; forgiveness; absolution</li> </ol>
remnant	n. [a usually small part, quantity, number of persons, or things that remain] remainder; balance; remains; residue
rend	v. [to tear, split or pull apart with violence] rip; rive; sever; sunder. N. rent Analogy: rend : tear :: rush : hurry	unite; mend; repair
rendition	n. [a translation or interpretation of a piece of music, a role, etc.] interpretation; translation; version
renege	v. [to go back on a promise; failure to honor an agreement]	carry out faithfully
reparable	adj. [that can be repaired or rectified] remediable ; rectifiable; mendable
repel	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>v. [to drive of force back] repulse; rebuff</li> <li>v. [to cause dislike or distaste in] nauseate; revolt; disgust</li> <li>v. [to reject outright] dismiss; spurn; snub; rebuff</li> </ol> Analogy: repellent : attract :: ephemeral : endure	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>fall; retreat</li> <li>enchant; entrance</li> </ol>
repercussion	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>n. [an indirect consequence of some action] reverberation</li> <li>n. [a movement back or reflection from an impact] rebound; recoil; backlash; reverberation</li> </ol>
replete	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>adj. [well-filled or plentifully provided] complete; filled; abundant; brimming</li> <li>adj. [having consumed enough or more than enough food or drink] gorged; sated; satiated; surfeited</li> </ol>	1. devoid
replicate	v. [to reproduce or make an exact copy of] repeat; duplicate; copy
reprimand	v. [criticize severely] rebuke ; berate ; censure ; lambaste ; reproof; upbraid . Also N.	